Your closure of your conclusion paragraph (2-3 sentences) should be one of the following:

- A. Challenge Your Reader: When you challenge your reader, you are asking your reader to apply the topic to their own lives.

Ex. Though serving on a jury is not only a civic responsibility but also an interesting experience, many people still view jury duty as a chore that interrupts their jobs and the routine of their daily lives. However, juries are part of America's attempt to be a free and just society. Thus, jury duty challenges us to be interested and responsible citizens.

- B. Define/Redefine a key, important term from your essay: For your reader, this will provide the importance of the topic:

Ex. Leadership is the ability to show courage in a time of need, organize a group, set the group on the correct path, and make important decisions. true leaders are brave, courageous and show true character.

- C. Look to the future: Looking to the future shows how your essay topic is important to the future world and people.

Ex. Without well-qualified teachers, schools are just a buildings with equipment. If higher-paying careers continue to attract the best and the brightest students, there will not only be a shortage of teachers, but the teachers available may not have the best qualifications. Our youth will suffer, and when youth suffers, the future suffers.

- D. End with a Quotation: Quotations amplify the main topic or show a different perspective.

Ex. "Leaders don't set out to be a leader...they set out to make a difference. It's never about the role, but about the goal."
